Fun is in the Forecast at Imagination Station

TOLEDO, Ohio – The Toledo region has been a little light on the snow this winter season, but that’s not stopping Imagination Station from celebrating one of winter’s most anticipated events...the snow day! The science center is hosting a Snowed-In Pajama Party from Saturday – Monday, January 18 – 20. Fun is in the forecast with traditional snow day activities planned to entertain little kids and big kids alike.

Visitors will enjoy STEM activities like:

- taking notes from the pros as they watch some of the world’s best compete in a Rubik’s Cube Tournament with the World Cube Association (Saturday only)
- watching as a specialized robot solves a Rubik’s Cube in a matter of moments
- putting their engineering skills to the test as they work together to construct an epic blanket fort to explore
- competing in a battle of concentration and strategy with oversize chess
- exploring friction, balance and structural engineering with a game of giant Jenga
- learning challenging new board games and classic favorites with Toledo Game Room (Saturday), Old School Gaming (Sunday) and Checkmate Games and Hobbies (Monday).
- investigating weight, balance and center of mass by building a mobile for the community art display

The Snowed-In PJ Party is the final event in Imagination Station’s Snowmazing Science event series. Pajamas and slippers are welcome! Snowmazing Science is presented by Comfort Line FiberFrame.

Imagination Station provides a critical layer of science enrichment by serving as an educational partner for teachers, schools and parents. It’s with a thoughtful blend of exhibits, experiences, education and excitement that Imagination Station inspires visitors to pursue STEM careers in Northwest Ohio.
